Meet Lucky Larry

This is Lucky Larry Silverstein, owner of the World Trade Center.

On 9/11/2001, Larry just so happened to be absent from work because of a doctor's appointment. He later claimed that the appointment was cancelled, and rather than returning to the top of the tower for his usual breakfast, he decided to walk around New York City. Larry's family was also absent from work that day and escaped harm, including his daughter and son (who was running late). Lucky Larry was also fortunate enough to have recently taken out a $3.5 Billion insurance policy only weeks before the attacks (July 2001). He went on to attempt to claim that amount twice (2 attacks). Luckily for Larry, he and his family managed to escape death and profit billions from the fall of the towers.

Way to go Larry! You LUCKY bastard!

THE OCCULT NUMEROLOGY OF 9/11

NUMEROLOGY BASICS

By the AnarchFortunist - Rev. 2.0 (2/2/2017)
A symbolic interpretation of the 9/11 event in terms of the Thelma system of Aleister Crowley.

*Relating numbers in terms of qualities rather than quantities. The basic operation is ‘reduction’. Adding the digits of any number eventually reduces it to a single, essential digit.

Example: 8766 → 8+7+6+6 = 27 → 2 + 7 = 9. So 9 is the essence of 8766.

*Multiples of 11 are considered ‘master numbers’ and do not necessarily need to be reduced.

*When applied to the date sequence of 9/11, note the sequence that emerges at each stage.

The form of the Twin Towers (an 11) reflects the dual pillar theme seen in many esoteric traditions.

The pillars represent an ascension to higher consciousness. In the WTC complex, Tower 1 is the path, the synthesis between the pillars, is the way to ultimate unity-consciousness. Building 7, the third tower, is the connector that day.

Note that the sum of the floors of the towers is 11 + 10 = the number of spheres, or divine spheres, on the Qabalistic Tree of Life (seen below). WTC = AKA “the Salomon Bros. Building” after its owners.

unplanned expansion determined by considerations of profitable investment.

A further important economico-geographical factor is 'the inescapable burden of heavy transportation costs'. The need for spreading the immense over-heads that have been incurred is one of the major influences towards a positive immigration policy in Canada. The opposite influences, however, are to-day very strong.

Canada, in the present condition of her domestic and foreign markets, appears already overcrowded. If agriculture merely holds its own and other rural employment is not forthcoming, a rural surplus of 800,000 is quite possible by 1941. To absorb the present natural increase in urban Canada, the estimated rural-urban migration, and the number of unemployed in 1931, would require a 45 to 50 per cent. increase in urban employment over the next decade. There is little likelihood of this occurring. Canada would be more than able to supply her own population requirements for five or ten years to come if the rate of economic expansion obtaining during the period 1911-31 were restored, and even if the boom conditions of 1901-11 were repeated she would not need to draw more than a few thousand a year from abroad to reach the limit of her absorptive capacity.

The author of another preparatory paper suggested 'an estimated possible figure for immigration into Canada of around 50,000 yearly', and he wrote:

The upper limit of any probable population in Canada at the end of this century has been placed by those who have made a really careful study of the problem at 20 million people.

A Study Group in Victoria, B.C., after emphasizing the importance of relative standards of living to this question, reached the conclusion 'that, were there no restrictions, British Columbia could and would support a very considerably increased population of Asiatic origin'. Another commentator suggested that more emphasis should be laid upon the need for a greater measure of social security in Canada.

Canadian public policy in economic affairs has been hitherto essentially non-socialistic.
